About Paris

Paris is the capital and the most amazing and populous city of France. Paris is the largest city in the western world, a prosperous trading Centre, and the home of the University of Paris, one of the oldest universities in history. By the 17th century it was one of Europe's major Centers of finance, commerce, fashion, science, and the arts, and it retains that position still today.

Paris is reciprocally twinned only with Rome. Build up with religious mixture. It is the department with highest proportion of highly educated people. 55 specialized Centers of higher-education outside the public university structure. The prestigious public universities are usually considered grand's establishments.

Tourist Attraction:

Paris offers the largest Concentration of tourist attractions in France, and possibly in Europe. Besides some of the world's most famous museums, it has a vibrant historic city centre, a beautiful river scape, an extensive range of historic monuments, including cathedrals, chapels and palaces, plus one of the most famous nightlife scenes in the world. Paris is also famous for its cafés and restaurants, its theatres and cinemas, and its general ambiance.

It is home of some of the largest fashion houses in the world, including Dior and Chanel, and of many well-known fashion designers. It is also the home of the world's largest cosmetics company, L'Oréal, and three of the five top global makers of luxury fashion accessories.
