Important Dates

Abstract submission opens: September 01, 2016

Registration opens: September 01, 2016

Early bird registration: July 31, 2017

On spot registration: September 01, 2017

Accommodation

A large number of rooms have been reserved. Discounted room rates for Parasitology-2017 participants are proposed. Only reservations made through the Conference will benefit these rates. The Congress Centre can be easily reached by public transportation.

Exhibition and Sponsorship

An Exhibition will be held concurrently with the Congress. The coffee break and lunch areas will be located adjacent to the booths. Thanks to exhibitors from all over the world, attendees will have a complete overview of new findings in the fields of numerous backgrounds, including zoology, physiology, biochemistry, immunology, molecular biology, pharmacology, ecology, economics, anthropology, sociology, engineering, agriculture, mathematics and, of course, human and veterinary medicine. Specific disciplines focus on specific aspects, thus parasitological knowledge may be fragmentary.

About Prague, Czech Republic

Prague is the capital and largest city of the Czech Republic. It is the 14th largest city in the European Union. It is also the historical capital of Bohemia. Situated in the north-west of the country on the Vltava River, the city is home to about 1.26 million people, while its larger urban zone is estimated to have a population of nearly 2 million. The city has a temperate climate, with warm summers and chilly winters. The city boasts more than ten major museums, along with numerous theatres, galleries, cinemas, and other historical exhibits. An extensive modern public transportation system connects the city. Prague is the fifth most visited European city after London, Paris, Istanbul and Rome. Prague's low cost of living makes it a popular destination for expats relocating to Europe. The city of Prague lies between oceanic climate and humid continental climate. The region city of Prague is an important centre of research. Some well-known multinational companies have established research and development facilities in Prague, among them Siemens, Honeywell and Sun Microsystems. We look forward to seeing you in Prague!
