Original Hot Innovation: Not Published

By: Nagy Abdelsalm: Egyptian Medical Thinker Author of Misdiagnosis Prevention: PhD Medical Thesis Not Printed

Topic: Neuro - Biologic - Medical - Clinical - Psychiatric- Philosophy

Evidence Based Theory: Through Discovery of Misdiagnosed Female Patients: middle age 3 females misdiagnosed as a primary depression, following the art of medicine by the author :(Physician s ability to integrate scientific medicine, clinical experience, creative thinking, and 12 clinical skills) correct diagnosis: depression due to general medical condition, confirmed by one Lab. Test, gradual withdrawal of antidepressant then stopped, replacement therapy by gynecologist, teamwork, monthly follow up for 2 Years.
Outcome: Marked Improvement of depression without antidepressants. Periodic Physical, and Psychiatric Assessment, plus laboratory assessment,

Hidden Details: because it is PHD Thesis, not published, waiting supervisors: Professor Psychiatry, and Professor Internal Medicine, through international research center or medical college

Details: Will be mentioned during my presentation: To save my rights by a certificate from the international conference in the event of my candidacy for the lecture.

