Catherine Camile D. Perez

- Currently the Marketing Director for Kean Energy, an Australian renewable energy consultancy firm.
- Core expertise is market trends in solar and has recently been a speaker at the 2018 ASEAN Conference for Solar and Power.
- She is mentored by the top solar engineer in Sydney, Australia, the very first woman in the US to build her own wind farm, and was amongst women who have been making waves in the energy industry all across the globe.
- Under Kean Energy, she established partnerships with solar companies who have delivered hundreds of projects in residential, industrial, commercial, and farms.
- She travelled around the globe belonging to a team of professionals doing International Marketing and Business Development for Philippine Real Estate convincing people to invest in over 1,800 homes.
- She has recently taken the Energy trends workshop provided by GE.
- Educated in European initiated institutions like Montessori and La Salle.
- Her Internships was in the European Chamber of Commerce of the Philippines where they assisted European Businesses to establish footing in the Philippines through Real Estate and Commercial investments.
- She won as best delegate at the United Nations in New York tackling issues on economy and environment at her senior year in the University.
- A director for JCI (Junior Chamber International), a non-profit organization and recently won an award for “Assistance to Handicapped” for her project Hope (Humble Opportunities for PWD Enablement) providing them with educational tools and better environment to live in.
- She is an active member of Unicef, World Food Programme, and Greenpeace.