Abstract

Although, many experts agree that the negative and "ugly" effects of vaccinations greatly outweigh any possible benefits; and, vaccination is not the only option; but, most people are fairly familiar with vaccinations and, much less familiar with homeopathic remedies. The basic science is the same; both homeopathic remedies and vaccines use diseased material to make remedies or cures. Some utilize diseased tissues, while others use products of disease, that they called nosodes.

The most significant difference is that homeopathic nosodes do not contain live or weakened microbes that they can cause chromosomal damage; but, vaccines do especially, in sensitive or, allergic immune system in some bodies.

This research try to find similarities, differences and advantages of homeopathic remedies and, vaccination in penetrate to D.N.A and, R.N.A in their effect route in the body.

Keywords—Homeopathic Remedies, Vaccination, Chromosomal Damage, Penetrate in D.N.A and, R.N.A.
