2ND INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE ON

WOMENS HEALTH AND WELL BEING

NOVEMBER 25-26, 2024 | PARIS, FRANCE

https://womenshealth.cmesociety.com/

INVITATION

WOMENS HEALTH 2024

Dear prestigious Participants and Honored Guests,

We are enthusiastic to extend a warm welcome to the 2nd International Conference on Women's Health and Well-being in the vibrant city of Paris, France and scheduled for November 25-26, 2024, this conference represents a global dedication to advancing the health and wellness of women worldwide.

This year's theme, "The Future of Women's Health: Trends, Challenges, and Innovations" highlights the complex journey of womanhood, urging us all to acknowledge the unique challenges women face and to work together towards innovative and sustainable solutions.

As you take part in thought-provoking keynote addresses, transformative workshops, and opportunities to connect with peers, we hope you find both inspiration and renewed motivation. Our diverse group of attendees, including health professionals, researchers, advocates, and policymakers, exemplifies the collective strength we possess when united by a common goal.

Paris, with its rich heritage and cultural diversity, provides an ideal setting for our discussions. We encourage you to take the time to explore its many attractions between sessions.

We deeply appreciate your participation and contribution to this crucial conversation. Let's work together to build a brighter, healthier future for women everywhere.

Warmest regards,
Program Manager | Jessy Joseph

MARKET ANALYSIS

Europe and North America are the foremost regions for production worldwide.

The global market for women's health was valued at approximately USD 31.88 billion in 2024. It is projected to grow to around USD 45.04 billion by 2030, with an expected compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 5.0% from 2024 to 2030 it is due to rising health awareness, technological advancements, and an expanding aging population.

Due to its sophisticated healthcare system and large spending, North America dominated the market in 2019 and 2020. This pattern persisted in 2021–2023, when the field saw growth in personalized and digital health. Europe experienced growth from 2021–2023, with a focus on R&D and investments in women's health, as a result of increased healthcare awareness and innovations. Improved access to healthcare and population growth propelled Asia Pacific's rapid growth, with substantial expansion anticipated by 2024. The Middle East and Africa showed growing interest in and investment in women's health, with growth predicted through 2024, while Latin America's burgeoning market expanded with improved healthcare access and investments.

ABOUT VENUE

Paris, the capital city of France, stands out as a leading European metropolis and a global epicenter for art, fashion, gastronomy, and cultural activities.

Paris is located in the northern part of the country along the River Seine, Paris is often referred to as "The City of Light" due to its prominent role in the arts and its historic illumination during the Enlightenment period.

The city's 19th-century design is characterized by its broad boulevards and the scenic River Seine, which weave through the urban landscape. While the Eiffel Tower and the Notre-Dame Cathedral, a Gothic masterpiece dating back to the 12th century, are among the city's most famous landmarks.

Paris is also distinguished by its vibrant café culture and luxury shopping experiences on Rue du Faubourg Saint-Honoré.

The Louvre Museum, a major cultural attraction, continues to draw immense crowds, having welcomed 8.9 million visitors in 2023, thereby maintaining its status as the most-visited art museum globally. Additionally, Paris is a critical node in the international transportation network, supported by two major airports: Charles de Gaulle Airport, which ranks as the third-busiest airport in Europe, and Orly Airport.
