About City and Venue

Madrid is a place of diversity of travel. The capital of Spain deserves its own spotlight of fame, with tasty food, inexpensive living, and upscale shopping. It has superfluity of rooftop bars, incredible museum exhibits, nonstop nightclubs and lush green parks.

Summers in Madrid are hot and dry, with moderate spring temperatures. The best time to visit Madrid is between September and November or between March and April in the early spring. Over the winter, hotels are usually less expensive. Metros are so less expensive, even non-Spanish speakers will find the metro to be very convenient to use, and it is much less costly than other European metro systems.

Spain has long been a popular tourist destination due to its beautiful beaches, cosmopolitan towns, and vibrant culture. For the next 50 years or so, tourism in Spain was virtually unstoppable. It was instrumental in assisting the country's recovery from the ashes of its early-2010s economic crisis. And in 2019, one year before the industry came to a halt around the world, Spain placed first in the World Economic Forum's Travel & Tourism Competitiveness Report for the third year in a row. Spain was constantly breaking records for touring arrivals in the years during the pandemic. The sector accounted for more than 10% of the national GDP on a regular basis.

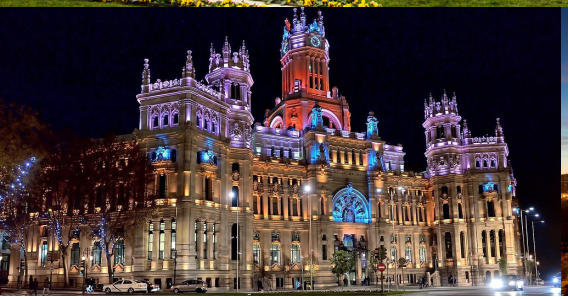

Spain is recognizing that the influx of millions of tourists. It is a place is of massive construction and investment firms have been buying up whole houses. Over 100,000 people visit this sprawling open-air market every Sunday to treasure hunt their way through over 700 stalls. Hundreds of stalls set up shop in Madrid's La Latina neighborhood every Sunday and public holiday. Ceramics, leather goods, antique books, home decor, clothing, and much more are available.

Madrid's secret treasures of art will show you a part of the city. Madrid has world-class museums, plenty of green space, vibrant food markets to help you disconnect from the hustle and bustle of the area. While visiting Madrid, the architecture has touches of 18th-century and the almond blossoms that bloom in early spring. They make for one of the most unique green spaces in the city.

Madrid has a lot of beautiful green spaces. But this lovely little corner of Parque del Oeste isn't just green—brimming it's with vibrant roses. The World Federation of Rose Societies considers the Rosaleda to be one of the best rose gardens in the world. Wander among thousands of roses in every colour you can picture in this tranquil Madrid secret gem. Near the Parque del Buen Retiro, this triumphal arch is rich in stone carvings and elegant sculptures.

Madrid combines tradition with a new, metropolitan lifestyle in a spectacular way. In recent years, tea has undergone a strong revival in Spain. Tea, a calming drink has earned its place on the national culinary scene, offers a favourite place for nearby tea-loving countries like the United Kingdom and Morocco. The world of Spanish wine is both nuanced and fascinating. Las Moradas de San Martn (DO Vinos de Madrid) of Madrid produces lovely Garnacha wines like Senda, a light, aromatic red with hints of oak. Aperitivo bars serving vermouth on tap abound in Barcelona and Madrid.

Madrid is a place for great monument with a lot of history and opens the door for academics and business world. The capital has most iconic locations. So, take a short trip to Madrid, explore the beautiful city and join us at Euro Pharma 2021!
