MARKET ANALYSIS

The advanced wound care market has evolved significantly from 2015 to 2028, driven by technological advancements and rising chronic conditions. Early innovations like hydrocolloid dressings and NPWT set the stage, while 2020-2025 saw a shift toward active wound care, with growing demand for skin substitutes and bioactive dressings. North America remains dominant, with Asia-Pacific experiencing rapid growth due to rising healthcare investments.

Projected to grow from $12 billion in 2022 to $16 billion by 2028 at a 5-6% CAGR, the market is fueled by advancements in AI, telemedicine, and active wound care products, alongside a shift toward home and specialty care settings.
