The world of science has been evolving on daily basis and there have are many things which are being uncovered everyday in different parts of the globe. It is very important to share these research findings to avoid the process of the reinventing the wheel. With this motto Pulsus is organizing the "3rd International Conference on Anatomy and Physiology" which is scheduled to be held at Barcelona, Spain on December 09-10, 2019.

The conference will be organized around the theme, "An Insight into the Recent Advancements in Anatomy and Physiology".

The Anatomy and Physiology 2019 provides a great platform to know more about the recent trends in the field of anatomy and physiology which are given to us by the speakers who are experts in the field of anatomy and physiology. These speakers provide information about the structure and functioning of all the body parts and the modern technologies that are used for their replacements like human head transplants, gene editing method, young blood antiaging, etc. This leading anatomists and the physiologists meet serves the best opportunity for the delegates and students to understand the human anatomy and the physiology community in detail.

About City and Venue

PULSUS
WWW.PULSUSCONFERENCE.COM

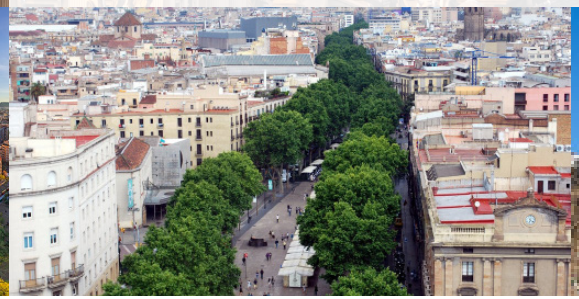

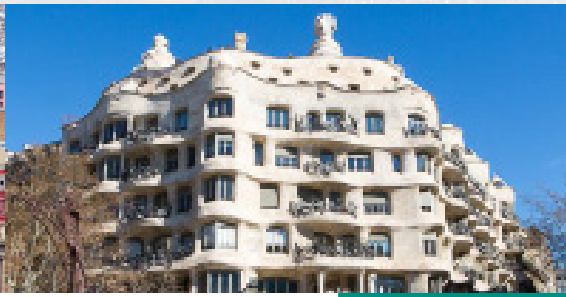

Barcelona, the smart city of Europe is one of the ancient cities in Spain, rich in civilization. Beautiful Barcelona is the second-largest metropolitan city in Spain and a world-class town, vibrant, full of history and a must-see on any European itinerary. People say that Barcelona doesn't feel like the other tourist spots of Spain, and this is true—because the area is an autonomous region in the country, one in which the Catalonians have created their own version of Iberia with their own language and culture. There's a vibe that gives the city its own identity. Barcelona enjoys a breezy Mediterranean climate with mild- cool winter and warm summer suitable for sunbathing. It's geographically situated in a good geographical background which enables good accessibility of the Spanish city from the rest of the cities in Spain.

Historical buildings scattered throughout the city are best described as whimsical, organic, Seussical and nonsensical. Besides being an amazing Spanish city to visit, Barcelona is a great hub spot for cruises to the Mediterranean or Canary Islands. There's an energy to the city of Barcelona that becomes infectious. It's been the home of some of the best artists, architects, and musicians in the world and it's full of their contributions. Whatever you're looking for, you'll find it here: great food, amazing art, beautiful architecture, fine wine and you'll even be hard pressed to find someone who doesn't speak English.
