17th Annual Conference on Nephrology

DECEMBER 04-05, 2017

Dallas, USA

Market Analysis

Reducing and eliminating racial and ethnic disparities in renal failure mortality in Dallas city. According to recent statistics report, nearly 26 million adults apart from young and old aged people are suffering from Chronic Kidney Disease complaints and millions of others are at increased risk. The numbers of Kidney transplantations are seemingly very high and in the year of 2015 alone, there are around 15000 kidney transplantations. Due to the rapid increase for the risk of renal disorders, Kidney 2017 aims to decrease the incidence rate of kidney disease through its international conference on nephrology and cordially invites participants across the globe to discuss and arrive under possible solutions for one of the major critical problems of mankind. In order to reduce the mortality rate this conference is going to be held at Dallas.

Annual Nephrology 2017 provides the best opportunity to meet eminent scientists from all over the world. Accepted papers will be published in the following Pulsus Group Journals.

- Journal of Clinical & Experimental Nephrology
- Journal of Nephrology & Therapeutics
- Journal of Kidney
- Internal Medicine: Open Access

About City

Dallas is a major American metropolis located in the state of Texas. The city is also the largest urban center of the fourth most populous metropolitan area in the United States of America. The city proper ranks ninth in the U.S. and third in Texas after Houston and San Antonio.

Dallas makes up one-fifth of the much larger urbanized area known as the Dallas-Fort Worth Metroplex, in which one quarter of all Texans live. Iconic examples of modernist architecture include Reunion Tower, the JFK Memorial, I. M. Pei's Dallas City Hall and Morton H. Meyerson Symphony Center. Good examples of postmodernist skyscrapers are Fountain Place, Bank of America Plaza, Renaissance Tower, JPMorgan Chase Tower, and Comerica Bank Tower. Dallas is a center of education for much of the south central United States. Dallas has many hospitals and a number of medical research facilities within its city limits. One major research center is the Dallas Medical District with the UT Southwestern Medical Center in the Stemmons Corridor, along with the affiliated UT Southwestern Medical School.

Pulsus Group takes pride in getting the endorsements of prestigious societies and medical research associations world wide.
