INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE ON

BIOMARKERS AND BIOBANKING

OCTOBER 12-14, 2023 | PARIS, FRANCE

https://biomarkers.pulsusconference.com/

INVITATION

BIOMARKERS 2023

Greetings!

Pulsus Group cordially invites you to its new event, the International Conference on Biomarkers, which will be held in Paris, France, on October 12-14, 2023. It includes a keynote address, innovators and professors from various cancer treatment facilities, and a panel discussion. The Biomarkers 2023 Platform brings together well-known figures and specialists from pharmacy, medicine, and research who share similar ideologies and interests in common ailments, particularly those found in oncology. Biomarkers 2023 brings together exceptional and international experts, scientists, and decision-makers from academia and industry to discuss and learn about advances in biomarker research on access while exchanging knowledge, innovations, and research as well as expertise in the field of cancer treatments. Biomarkers 2023 will feature a two-day scientific conference, business meeting, trade show, and fair with the theme "Biomarkers Current Perspective and Future Prospects" Biomarkers 2023 will provide a unique and international forum for specialists, scientists, and decision-makers from academia and industry from all over the world to share knowledge, innovations, research, and expertise in the field of cancer treatments. Biomarkers 2023 brings together professionals from various fields to satisfy and discuss the longer term of clinical research and, as a result, the necessity of biomarkers in today's world to survive with better health. This meeting will cover technological advancements, new scientific discoveries, and current biomarkers trends. There will be discussions, keynote addresses, poster presentations, and other activities. You will be able to learn more about biomarkers at this meeting..

CONFERENCE HIGHLIGHTS

- Biomarkers & Biobanking
- Biomarkers in oncology
- Clinical and translational biomarkers
- Cardiac Biomarkers
- Molecular Biomarkers
- Biomarkers in drug Discovery
- Breast Cancer Biomarkers
- Blood Biomarker
- Biomarkers in Pharmacology
- Genomics and proteomics
- Biomarker in neuro- oncology
- Advancements in Biomarkers
- Biomarker in health and disorder
- Biomarkers for Noncancerous diseases
- Imaging Biomarkers
- Digital Biomarkers
- Biomarkers Testing
- Diagnostics and therapeutic Biomarkers
- Importance of Biobanking

ABOUT US

Since many years Pulsus has also been very instrumental to provide an invaluable channel for scientists and researchers to exchange ideas and research by creating a forum for discussing the possibilities of future collaborations between universities, institutions, research bodies and organizations from different countries through international conferences and meetings.

Pulsus Group is an internationally renowned medical peer-review publisher and conferences organizer established in the year 1984 publishes and hosts the work of researchers in a manner that exemplifies the highest standards in research integrity.

With a legacy of 30 years of excellence in Medical Publishing we are endorsed by various societies like International Academy of Cardiovascular Sciences, International Society of Addiction Medicine, European Biotechnology Thematic Network Association, World Federation of Paediatrics Intensive and Critical Care Societies, World Association of Medical Sciences, International Society for Ceramics in Medicine, Thalassaemia International Federation and World Association of Integrated Medicine to nurture the research and development for the beneficence of society.

MARKET ANALYSIS

Biomarkers developments, such as biomarker signatures, are improving the treatment of neurological diseases, allowing for faster drug development and non-invasive testing. New Biomarkers are being discovered as a result of R&D. According to the Nature Journal in 2020, vitronectin is a promising Biomarkers for the diagnosis of heart failure. The market is expected to grow profitably throughout the forecast period as a result of such discoveries and technological breakthroughs. Over the next few years, It is expected that Biomarkers will be used to diagnose an increasing number of infectious diseases in the coming years. from 2022 to 2029, at a CAGR of 13.6%. The market report was curated by the Data Bridge Market Research team and includes in-depth expert analysis, patient epidemiology, pipeline analysis, pricing analysis, and regulatory framework. Abbott Laboratories released Lingo, a consumer bio wearable that can track important body signals and help consumers better understand and improve their overall health, in February 2022. Biohackers may be able to use a continuous stream of data instead of periodic finger-prick tests, urine samples, and breath readings. The presence and availability of global brands, as well as the challenges they face as a result of intense or limited competition from local and domestic brands, as well as the impact of domestic brands. Only five years ago, genomic sequencing was available only in research settings.

TARGET AUDIENCE

- Biomarker research scientists
- Cancer specialist
- Immunologists
- Pharmacologists
- Gynecologist
- oncologist
- Medical professors
- Research students

WHO SHOULD ATTEND

- Scientists
- Oncologists
- Pharmacologists
- Immunologists
- Geneticists
- Biomarker Associations
- Societies of Biomarkers
- Pharmaceutical companies
- Biomedical Industrials
- Young Research fellows
- Research Students
- Medical Professors
- Faculty of Science
- Psychiatrists

WHY TO ATTEND

With individuals from around the globe concentrated on finding out about Biomarkers conference and Clinical Research, this is your best chance to achieve the biggest collection of members from different famous speakers. Lead exhibitions, circulate data, meet with potential speakers/Delegates all around the globe which are chipping away at the exceptionally rising field of Biomarker conference, and get name acknowledgment at this occasion. Incredibly famous speakers, the latest procedures, strategies, and the updates in Biomarkers and Clinical Research fields are signs of this meeting.

- Influential keynote speaker session
- 5+ Workshops
- 13 Interactive sessions based on evidence from 50+ Speaker
- Faculty across 2 full days
- A mix of academic and healthcare delegations
- Interaction

ABOUT VENUE

Paris, France's capital and largest city, is located in the country's north-central region. By around 7600 BCE, people were living on the current city's site, which is located along the Seine River about 233 miles (375 km) upstream from the river's mouth on the English Channel (La Manche). The modern city has spread far beyond the island and both banks of the Seine. The Seine divides historical Paris into three sections. The Left Bank (Rive Gauche) of the Seine has traditionally been the seat of intellectual life, while the Right Bank (Rive Droite) has traditionally been the seat of economic life, but these distinctions have become blurred in recent decades. Paris is located in the heart of the Ile-de-France region, which is traversed by the rivers Seine, Oise, and Marne. The city is surrounded by large beech and oak forests, which are known as the "lungs of Paris" because they help to purify the air in the heavily industrialized region. Paris benefits from the balmy influences of the Gulf Stream and has a fairly temperate climate due to its location on the western side of Europe and in a plain relatively close to the sea.
