MARKET ANALYSIS

Clinical Gastro 2023 Overview:

During the projected period, the Gastrointestinal Therapeutics Market is estimated to grow at a CAGR of 6.8%.

According to a study published in the Digestive Diseases Journal in March 2021 by Hunt R.H.a et al., the SARS-CoV-2 virus can impact the digestive system, and individuals with pre-existing illness are at the greatest risk of negative effects. Some repurposed medications used to treat COVID-19 can cause or exacerbate COVID-19-related gastrointestinal symptoms, as well as liver harm.

The rising prevalence of gastrointestinal illnesses in the country is also driving up market demand. According to a study published in the BMC Journal in August 2020 by Thomas Joshua Pasvol et al., the incidence of inflammatory bowel disease (IBD), Crohn's disease (CD), and ulcerative colitis (UC) in the United Kingdom was found to be 28.6, 10.2, and 15.7 per 100,000 people, respectively. Furthermore, the incidence of inflammatory bowel disease (IBD) among adolescents aged 10–16 years increased from 13.1/100,000 population in 2000 to 25.4/100,000 population in 2018..
