MARKET ANALYSIS

Scope and Importance:

Maternal-fetal medicine is a global medium for delivering studies and recent innovations on treatment, prevention, and fetal & maternal disease management, sharing ideas on it and thus leading to the development of expertise in maternal and fetal medicine, for the betterment of both academia and industry. Our Conference brings together industry experts, maternal-fetal & neonatal pharmaceutical and healthcare sectors, making the meeting an ideal networking platform, sharing views and knowledge through immersive discussions.

The therapies for maternal, fetal and neonatal care differ from market to market. Many organizations regard prenatal, fetal and neonatal treatments as preventive care and therefore are not protected by them, and many have generally refused congenital care. Nonetheless, prices typically do not exceed USD $35,000 for countries where these requirements are covered. This is less than the expenses incurred only in the first year of life to treat congenital disorders. Therefore, treating disorders such as fetal lung and heart defects and spinal bifida in utero can be more cost-effective, as this can reduce costs compared with postnatal treatments.

ABOUT VENUE

London is the largest city in Europe and is the capital city of England and the United Kingdom. London is one of the most cosmopolitan. The tallest building in London is The Shard London Bridge and it is also the 45th tallest in the world. London is the first city to host the Olympics three times (1908, 1948 and 2012). The River Thames flows through London.

Tower Bridge is the most recognisable bridge on the River Thames since 1894 and is often referred to as “London Bridge”. London has 43 universities, the largest concentration of higher education in Europe. More than 300 languages are spoken within London. The London Underground is the oldest underground railway network in the world. The double-decker bus is an icon of London. The traditional colour of taxis in London is Black. Today the ‘Black Cabs’ come in 12 different colours. Buckingham Palace is The Queen’s official London residence and has 775 rooms these include 19 State rooms, 52 Royal and guest bedrooms, 188 staff bedrooms, 92 offices and 78 bathrooms. Buckingham Palace gets its name from a man named Duke of Buckingham who built Buckingham House for himself as a grand London home. Big Ben is not actually the name of the clock or the tower. It is the 13-ton bell inside the clock. The tower is known as St Stephens Tower but most people refer to it as Big Ben. The West End is London’s main entertainment (theatres) and shopping district.
