Market Analysis

PULSUS
WWW.PULSUSCONFERENCE.COM

A nutritional deficiency occurs when the body doesn't absorb or get from food the necessary amount of a nutrient. Deficiencies can lead to a variety of health problems. These can include digestion problems, skin disorders, stunted or defective bone growth, and even dementia. The amount of each nutrient you should consume depends on your age. In the United States, many foods that you buy in the grocery store (such as cereals, bread, and milk) are fortified with nutrients that are necessary to prevent nutritional deficiency. But sometimes your body is unable to absorb certain nutrients even if you're consuming them. The body requires many different vitamins and minerals that are crucial for both body development and preventing disease. These vitamins and minerals are often referred to as micronutrients. They aren't produced naturally in the body, so you have to get them from your diet.

About City and Venue

PULSUS
WWW.PULSUSCONFERENCE.COM

Rome is the capital of Italy and a special comune . Rome also serves as the capital of the Lazio region. With 2,876,051 residents in 1,285 km2 (496.1 sq. m).It is also the country's most populated comune. It is the fourth-most populous city in the European Union by population within city limits. The Vatican City is an independent country inside the city boundaries of Rome, the only existing example of a country within a city: for this reason Rome has been often defined as capital of two states. Rome is a great walking city, and surprisingly doable. Toss your coin, then cross the Via del Corso toward the Pantheon. This building appears suddenly before you amid the hustle and bustle of modern-day Rome. The space inside the Pantheon is a perfect sphere, and the poured-concrete coffered dome is still the largest ever built.

Rome is a city of villages, each with its own personality. One gem is Trastevere, west of the Tiber. It's a maze of winding streets and tiny squares and the place to catch the feel of old Rome — with locals chatting through open windows and the most-photographed laundry in the world. It is said that Rome is like an outdoor theater and being there like starring in your own movie. So, go ahead, answer your casting call. Make your movie. But beware: You will want a sequel.
