MARKET ANALYSIS

Gynecology & Obstetrics known as 'The Science of Women' deals with female reproductive system from the puberty stage to the pregnancy, childbirth, postpartum and menopause stage of women. Gynecologists and Obstetricians face a wide range of challenge from stage one to the menopause stage and yonder that. Some of the common surgical procedures performed by gynecologists where they had to face may challenges includes: Dilation and curettage, Hysterectomy, Oophorectomy, Tubal Hysteroscopy, Diagnostic laparoscopy, Appendectomy, and Cervical Excision procedures. Not only that, they had to treat acute and chronic health conditions and also they had to make the perilous childbirth process in a calm manner.

According to inquiries there were, 160 maternal deaths due to COVID 19 which have been testified worldwide where most of them in middle income countries are representing a barrier in reducing maternal mortality. After initial studies suggested that pregnant women were not at a higher risk of complications due to COVID 19 infection, recent investigations from Sweden and the US have indicated that pregnant and perinatal women are being put under increased risk of technical hitches associated with COVID 19. In an evaluation of 8207 issues of COVID 19 in the obstetric population, the Centres For Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) reported a higher risk of ICU admission and mechanical ventilation equated to non a pregnant women, even if no higher risk of mortality was ascertained. Reduce global maternal mortality to less than 70 per 100,000 live births between 2021 and 2030 as part of a sustainable development target.
