ABOUT US

Since many years Pulsus has also been very instrumental to provide an invaluable channel for scientists and researchers to exchange ideas and research by creating a forum for discussing the possibilities of future collaborations between universities, institutions, research bodies and organizations from different countries through international conferences and meetings.

Pulsus Group is an internationally renowned medical peer-review publisher and conferences organizer established in the year 1984 publishes and hosts the work of researchers in a manner that exemplifies the highest standards in research integrity.

With a legacy of 30 years of excellence in Medical Publishing we are endorsed by various societies like International Academy of Cardiovascular Sciences, International Society of Addiction Medicine, European Biotechnology Thematic Network Association, World Federation of Paediatrics Intensive and Critical Care Societies, World Association of Medical Sciences, International Society for Ceramics in Medicine, Thalassaemia International Federation and World Association of Integrated Medicine to nurture the research and development for the beneficence of society.

MARKET ANALYSIS

The Netherlands' Orthopedic Devices segment is anticipated to experience a steady growth rate, with an estimated revenue of USD 0.46 billion by 2023, and a CAGR of 4.80% from 2023 to 2027. This growth is expected to result in a market volume of USD 0.56 billion by 2027. While the US is predicted to generate the highest revenue in this sector globally, the Netherlands' orthopedic devices market offers promising growth opportunities, particularly due to the rising incidence of musculoskeletal disorders and a growing elderly population. There is also a growing awareness about joint replacement implants that is likely to further drive market growth. The rise in orthopedic medical devices can be attributed to increasing cases of degenerative bone disease, an aging population, and road accidents. These devices treat deformities, restore skeletal function, and stabilize body posture. Innovative technologies and diagnostic techniques have reduced the need for complex surgeries, while musculoskeletal conditions vary due to age, environment, race, and geography.

ABOUT VENUE

Amsterdam is the capital and most populous city of the Netherlands, located in the western part of the country. It is a vibrant and dynamic city, known for its picturesque canals, historic buildings, and rich cultural heritage. Amsterdam is also a hub for medical research and innovation, with many leading research institutions, hospitals, and clinics based in the city. The city has a world-renowned transportation system, including trams, buses, and bikes, making it easy for locals and visitors to get around.

Cultural Diversity: Amsterdam is renowned for its cultural diversity, with over 180 nationalities residing in the city. The result is a vibrant and eclectic atmosphere, with a unique blend of cultures and traditions visible in Amsterdam's architecture, art, music, and cuisine. The city's cultural institutions, including museums, theatres, and galleries, celebrate this diverse heritage. Although Dutch is the official language spoken in Amsterdam, many locals also speak English, and the multicultural population means that various other languages are widely spoken too.

Climate: Amsterdam has a mild maritime climate with cool summers and mild winters. Rainfall is consistent throughout the year, with the wettest month being October. Summer is the best time to visit, with temperatures averaging around 18-20°C (64-68°F). However, visitors should be prepared for occasional rain showers.

City of Attractions: Amsterdam is a city of attractions, with something for everyone. The city is known for its beautiful canals, museums, historic landmarks, and vibrant nightlife. The most popular attractions include the Rijksmuseum, the Van Gogh Museum, the Anne Frank House, and the famous Red Light District. Visitors can also take a boat tour of the canals, visit the historic Dam Square, or explore the trendy neighborhoods of Jordan and De Pijp. Amsterdam is also home to numerous parks, gardens, and outdoor markets, adding to the city's charm and appeal.
