Psychiatry is a field of Medicine deals with the Study of Mental health disorders, diagnosis and its treatment. It focuses on detection, prevention, early treatment and resilience of an individual Mental Health. Where, Mental Health is the base for well-being and active functioning for an individual and for a Community. Globally the level of mental illness is emphasized by the global burden diseases (GBD). It is also associated with the adverse human, economic, and social effects, global policy makers and funders have so far failed due to arrange treatment and care of people with mental illness. According to 2016 report, the global burden of mental illness accounts for 32.4% of years lived with disability (YLDs) and 13.0% of disability-adjusted life-years (DALYs), instead of the earlier estimates suggesting 21.2% of YLDs and 7.1% of DALYs. Based on these estimates it's proven that mental health and psychiatric disorders is in the first place in terms of both YLDs and DALYs in GBD. Increase in number of patients seeking treatment for mental illness and rising demand for improved healthcare infrastructure are expected to drive the Pharmaceutical market.
