MARKET ANALYSIS

Orthopedic: The orthopedic devices market was worth USD 39,585 million in 2020, and it's predicted to grow to USD 51,425 million by 2026, with a CAGR of roughly 4.9 percent between 2021 and 2026.

Private and public transportation were halted in 2020 owing to worldwide lockdowns, resulting in fewer road accidents and injuries. As a result, therapy at healthcare facilities switched away from orthopedic surgeries and toward COVID-19 patients, which had a short-term impact on the market, particularly specialist hospitals. In addition, orthopedic and minor hospitals in a few places were closed or had their operations reduced, while other hospitals were transformed to COVID-19 containment facilities and treatment wards.

Rehabilitation: In 2016, the worldwide rehabilitation equipment market was worth USD 10.53 billion, and it is predicted to rise at a CAGR of 6.0 percent over the forecast period. Because of the rising frequency of degenerative illnesses including Parkinson's, Alzheimer's, and arthritis, as well as the increasing number of trauma victims who require rehabilitation therapy, the market is predicted to increase significantly. Furthermore, throughout the projected period, the market is likely to be propelled by the expanding elderly population.

Pharmacokinetics: The global pharmacokinetics services market size was valued at USD 652.8 million in 2017 and is projected to expand at a CAGR of 8.3% during the forecast period. Poor pharmacokinetics (PK) of therapeutics is one of the key reasons for higher drug attrition. In order to reduce concerns about high drug attrition, researchers are embracing the trend of PK investigation of novel moieties at each development stage.

ABOUT VENUE

London is the capital and largest city of England and the United Kingdom, with a population of just under 9 million It stands on the river Thames in south-east England at the head of a 50-mile (80 km) estuary down to the North Sea, and has been a major settlement for two millennia. The City of London, its ancient core and financial centre, was founded by the Romans as Londinium and retains its medieval boundaries. The City of Westminster, to the west of the City of London, has for centuries hosted the national government and parliament. Since the 19th century, the name "London" has also referred to the metropolis around this core, historically split between the countries of Middlesex, Essex, Surrey, kent and Hertfordshire, which since 1965 has largely comprised greater London, which is governed by 33 local authorities and the Greater London Authority. London's diverse cultures encompass over 300 languages. The mid-2018 population of Greater London of about 9 million made it Europe's third-most populous city, accounting for 13.4% of the population of the United Kingdom and over 16% of the population of England. The Greater London Built-up Area is the fourth-most populous in Europe with about 9.8 million inhabitants at the 2011 census. The London metropolitan area is the third-most populous in Europe with about 14 million inhabitants in 2016, granting London the status of a megacity.
