ABOUT VENUE

Paris is the capital and most vibrant megacity of France, with an estimated population of residers in 2019 in an area of further than 105 km ^{2}(41 sq mi), making it thefourth-most populated megacity in the European Union as well as the 30th most densely peopled megacity in the world in 2022. Since the 17th century, Paris has been one of the world's major centers of finance, tactfulness, commerce, fashion, cooking, and wisdom. For its commanding part in the trades and lores, as well as its veritably early system of road lighting, in the 19th century, it came known as" the City of Light". Like London, previous to the Second World War, it was also occasionally called the capital of the world. The City of Paris is the center of the Île-de-France region, or Paris Region, with an estimated population of in 2019, or about 19 of the population of France, making the region France's primate megacity. The Paris Region had a GDP of € 739 billion($ 743 billion) in 2019, the loftiest in Europe. According to the Economist Intelligence Unit Worldwide Cost of Living Survey, in 2022, Paris was the megacity with the ninth-loftiest cost of living in the world. For centuries, Paris has attracted artists from around the world, who arrive in the megacity to educate themselves and to seek alleviation from its vast pool of cultural coffers and galleries. As a result, Paris has acquired a character as the" City of Art". Since the late 18th century, Paris has been notorious for its caffs and haute cookery, food strictly set and adeptly presented. A luxury eatery, La Taverne Anglaise, opened in 1786 in the passageways of the Palais- Royal by Antoine Beauvilliers; it featured an elegant dining room, an expansive menu, linen tablecloths, a large wine list, and well- trained waitpersons; it came a model for unborn Paris caffs . Paris makes the stylish place for a great Conference for the Speakers.
