About City and Venue

PULSUS
WWW.PULSUSCONFERENCE.COM

Prague, Czech Praha, city, the Czech Republic's capital. Located in the heart of Europe, it is one of the best cities on the continent, and the largest economic and cultural center of the Czech Republic. The city has a rich architectural heritage that reflects both the turbulent trends of Bohemian culture and a more than 1,000-year-long urban life.

FACTS: 1. It's home to the largest castle in the world. Dating back to the ninth century, Prague Castle spans an impressive 18 acres and is home to stunning cathedrals, chapels, royal palaces and gorgeous ornamental gardens…

2. There is a graffiti wall devoted to John Lennon. Since 1980, it's been repainted numerous times and is laced in graffiti lyrics from Lennon and The Beatles…

3. The Charles Bridge has some rather mathematical significance. Former Czech king Charles IV laid the first stone of the bridge at precisely 5.31am on July 9, 1357. A superstitious man, the king was so into astrology and numerology that he chose this date because of its written form: 1-3-5-7-9-7-5-3-1 (year, day, month, time). Bet you didn't know that!

4. The city is home to the longest river in the Czech Republic, the Vltava…

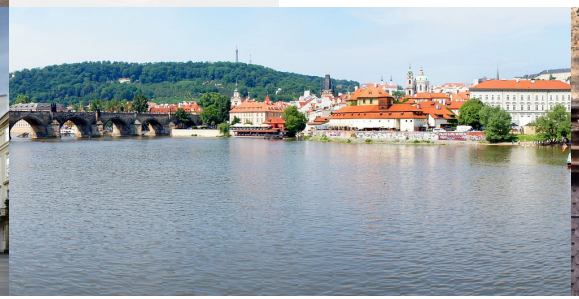

5. According to legend, Hitler planned to preserve Prague's Jewish quarter in his retirement plan. Strange it may be, but the former Nazi leader wanted to settle in the city and make the area a museum to preserve the memory of 'the extinguished ace'…

6. Even if you've never been to Prague, you've probably heard of its famous Astronomical Clock. Well guess what: if you're about in Southeast Asia, in Seoul to be precise, you'll find an exact replica in the mega popular Hongdae district…

7. The city's famous Dancing House was inspired by Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers. Designed in collaboration with Canadian-American Frank Gehry and Croatian-Czech Vlado Miluni?, the building symbolises yin and yang. In this case, the blending of communism and democracy.
