Title: Bulletproof Your Business -
A roadmap to run your business efficiently

Name: Yvonne Heimann
Business Efficiency Consultant at Ask Yvi, San Diego, CA

Entrepreneurship is a funny thing. You find your passion and even find a way to make a great living doing it. And suddenly you don't have time for yourself anymore - Workaholics unite.
This talk is for the digital entrepreneur tired of hustling day in and day out - ready to use technology to be more efficient, grow and work well with your team.
You probably think you don't have the time to do all the things and implement all the systems... Let me tell you, life is too short for you not to!

This is for you if:

- You don't want your business to run you
- You want to have time for other things
- You don't want to get stuck doing "busy" work

You'll leave knowing:

- How to plan your day to be more efficient rather than productive
- How to use technology to automate your business, saving you time and money
- How to prepare to successfully start outsourcing tasks

Biography

As a web designer and business efficiency coach who runs multiple businesses, Yvonne has over 10 years of experience organizing, strengthening, and streamlining businesses into profitability and success.
Since moving to the US in 2007, Yvonne has been helping empower entrepreneurs to successfully run sustainable businesses while also enjoying life.
Her own life-changing challenge came in 2014, when she lost her husband to cancer. Yvonne was determined to resume her passion for building "bulletproof businesses" that can withstand anything.
She has been featured in publications like Forbes, Huffpost, Thrive Global and BuzzFeed and is a contributor to Social Media Examiner.
