About Frankfurt

Frankfurt is the largest city in the German state of Hesse and the fifth-largest city in Germany. Frankfurt is home to many cultural and educational institutions, including the Goethe University and Frankfurt University of Applied Sciences, many museums and two major botanical gardens: the Palmengarten and the Botanical Garden of Goethe University. Frankfurt is a global hub for commerce, culture, education, tourism and traffic. It is the most important financial centre on the European mainland, with the HQs of the European Central Bank, German Federal Bank, Frankfurt Stock Exchange, Deutsche Bank, Commerzbank, DZ Bank, several fintech start-ups and other institutes. Messe Frankfurt is one of the world's largest trade fairs. Major fairs include the Frankfurt Motor Show, the world's largest motor show, and the Frankfurt Book Fair, the world's largest book fair. Frankfurt has many high-rise buildings in the city centre, forming the Frankfurt skyline. It is one of the few cities in the European Union to have such a skyline and because of it Germans sometimes refer to Frankfurt as Mainhattan, a portmanteau of the local Main River and Manhattan.
