About Rome

Rome is the capital of Italy. Almost 2.9 million people lived there. Rome is the major and most inhabited community of Italy. It is situated in the central-western part of the Italian Peninsula near the coastline of Tiber River.In Rome, there exists a country within it which is named as Vatican City. Rome has a position as that of a universal city. Research shows that in 2014, the city is the most visited city in the world and regarded as the 3rd most visited city in the European Union. Moreover, it is regarded as the greatest temptation for the travellers. Tourists from all over the world came here and visited many places. But the most attracting places for them include the monuments and museums like the Vatican museums and the Colosseum. We ate different foods there. We ate Italian as well as American food. We also had pasta, pizza and gelato, which is a kind of an Italian ice-cream and is soft and creamy. You can have all its topping which you wishes but most of the time the only topping they offer is cherry. You can see greenery everywhere in Rome as parks and gardens cover a large area there. Here exist a great number of villas and gardens. Tourist enjoy the greenery which attracts every one.
