Welcome Message by Ian Young

Dear Colleagues,

As a Keynote Speaker and Organizing Committee Member, I would like to welcome you as appreciated delegates to attend the Addiction Congress ~ "Accelerating the Rehabilitation, Treatment and Therapies in Addiction" which will be held in the vibrant city of Singapore during May 17-18, 2018.

I have been an avid attender of our Addiction treatment industry conferences and events since 2001 and always learn new strategies and techniques from my colleagues whenever they share their own great wisdoms. Further to my educational experience of conferences, it's also a great opportunity to look around at the great cities of the world, and Singapore is certainly one of these, so I'm looking forward to taking some time out to look around this beautiful city, merging urban architecture with ecology and vegetation.

The Addiction Congress will be attended by many other professionals with a vast array of expertise in our sector of mental health and behavioural health treatment, and I anticipate the hotel conference facilities will allow the conference speakers and the attendees terrific opportunities to engage in collaborative efforts while learning more about some of the current trends and best practice research.

The Addiction Summit 2018 has extended global outreach efforts to invite even more speakers and attendees from many nations around the world, who now have an opportunity to share their own specific expertise, giving us all the best chance to improve our own practices and efforts to care for our patients and clients.

I personally look forwards to meeting and greeting you in May and exchanging our own ideas and looking for ways to collaborate further.

Ian Young

Singapore, officially the Republic of Singapore, is a sovereign city-state and island country in Southeast Asia. It lies off the southern tip of the Malay Peninsula and is 137 kilometers (85 mi) north of the equator. The country's territory consists of the lozenge-shaped main island, commonly referred to as Singapore Island in English and Pulau Ujong in Malay, and more than 60 significantly smaller islets. Singapore is separated from Peninsular Malaysia by the Straits of Johor to the north and from Indonesia's Riau Islands by the Singapore Strait to the south. The country is highly urbanized, and little of the original vegetation remains. The country's territory has consistently expanded through land reclamation. Singapore is both an island and a country, but perhaps its best description is that of city state. Like the great city-states of the past, it offers civilization and order in the highest degree. Its combination of Western-style development and Eastern-style calm seems to present the best of both hemispheres: It's a modern metropolis where you feel safe walking the streets and it's an Asian business center that's a model of efficiency. Singapore is also a multicultural city, and close to one-quarter of its population are expatriates or foreign workers from all over the world. Known for its desire to become the technology hub of Asia, Singapore is the most wired country in the region.
