Plan Your Trip to Bangkok

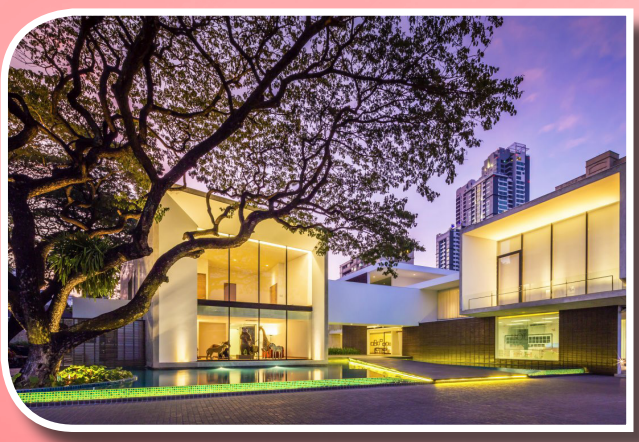

About Bangkok

Bangkok is the Captial of Thailand which is a country located in South East Asia. Thailand has borders with Malaysia; Myanmar (Burma), Laos and Cambodia but much of the country has coast line with either the Indian Ocean or The Bay of Thailand.

The weather in Bangkok is dominated by a tropical monsoon climate which means there are three main seasons: hot season from March to June, rainy season from July to October and cool season between November and February.

Bangkok weather may not be the warmest in the world every day but, overall, it is unrelenting simply because it doesn't cool significantly at night. The two periods April to May and September to October are the steamiest, characterised by high humidity. You'll find it a more pleasant experience during these months as the humidity is not as bad and the temperature drops to a bearable level. The southwest monsoons arrive between May and October bringing unsettled, cloudy conditions and, for many, this is a welcome respite.

Bangkok has a huge number of places with historical interest including places like The Grand Palace, Wat Pra Gaew, Wat Arun (Temple Of Dawn), Wat Pho (Temple of the reclining Buddha), The Golden Mount temple and so on and it's not a case of "you've seen on eyou've seen them all". Each one offers something different and unique. Bangkok is an absolute delight for anyone who enjoys good food. There are restaurants of all types and catering to all budgets so finding excellent food is not a problem. And finally Bangkok is a modern city. Getting about is easy, shopping is amazing and entertainment exceptional. The food is some of the best in the world and if you just can't bear the thought of eating out of your comfort zone.
