About the conference

The 29th World Cardiology Conference brings together global leaders in cardiology to address the pressing challenges and advancements shaping cardiovascular health. Under the theme “Transforming Cardiovascular Care: From Research to Global Impact,” the conference emphasizes the translation of groundbreaking research into real-world solutions to improve patient outcomes and global health standards.\

This two-day event will feature keynote presentations, scientific discussions, and hands-on workshops, covering key areas such as preventive cardiology, advancements in diagnostics, minimally invasive treatments, and the integration of artificial intelligence in cardiology. Attendees will explore emerging therapies and global strategies to combat the growing burden of cardiovascular diseases.

Theme: “Advancing Cardiovascular Care: Innovation, Integration and Implementation”.

Why to attend the conference

Attending the 29th World Cardiology Conference in Paris on August 19-20, 2025, offers a unique opportunity to stay abreast of the latest advancements and research in cardiology.
