INVITATION

CLIMATE CHANGE 2026

Climate Change 2026 cordially invites you to attend the 6th World Congress on Climate Change and Ecosystem, scheduled on September 14–15, 2026, in Barcelona, Spain under the theme "Innovation and Restoration for a Sustainable World." This international congress will bring together climate researchers, environmental scientists, ecologists, academicians, policymakers, industry professionals, and sustainability experts from around the world.

The conference will feature keynote lectures, oral and poster presentations, and interactive discussions covering recent developments in climate science, ecosystem restoration, renewable energy, biodiversity conservation, and sustainable environmental practices. Climate Change 2026 aims to provide a platform for sharing research, discussing innovative solutions, and encouraging global collaboration to address environmental challenges and promote sustainability.

We look forward to welcoming you to Barcelona for an enriching scientific and professional experience.

Warm regards,
Christian Lauren | Program Manager

ABOUT VENUE

Barcelona is widely recognized as one of the most vibrant and culturally rich cities in the world, known for its remarkable architecture, Mediterranean coastline, and artistic heritage. As one of Spain's most visited cities, Barcelona attracts millions of travelers each year and is celebrated for its blend of history, innovation, and modern urban life. The city is famous for its iconic landmarks, many designed by the renowned architect Antoni Gaudí, including the Sagrada Família and Park Güell, which have become symbols of Barcelona's unique identity.

Barcelona has long been a center of art, culture, trade, and intellectual exchange. Its historic streets, museums, and architectural masterpieces reflect centuries of cultural development and creativity. The city is also well known for its cuisine, music, sports, and lively atmosphere, making it a popular destination for international visitors and global events. While Barcelona represents the heart of Catalan culture and tradition, it also stands as a modern European city known for innovation, sustainability, and scientific advancement. With its welcoming environment and global connectivity, Barcelona provides an ideal setting for international conferences and professional collaboration.
