London, UK

London, the capital of England and the UK, has a population nearing 9 million. It began as the Roman settlement of Londinium, evolving into the financial hub of the City of London and the governance center of Westminster. With a GDP of €801.66 billion in 2017, it's Europe's largest urban economy and a major global financial center. It's home to esteemed universities like Imperial College London and cultural attractions like the British Museum. Transport infrastructure includes the world's busiest city airport system and the iconic London Underground. London's diversity is evident in its 300 languages spoken and its status as Europe's third-most populous city. It boasts UNESCO World Heritage Sites like the Tower of London and iconic landmarks including Buckingham Palace and Tower Bridge. Sporting events like the FA Cup Final and the London Marathon contribute to its global prominence.
