About the conference

The “13th International Conference on Environmental Chemistry” is an esteemed global gathering that will take place in the dynamic and culturally rich city of Paris, France, from November 14-15, 2026. This conference serves as a pivotal platform for renowned experts, dedicated practitioners, visionary researchers, and passionate advocates from diverse corners of the world to convene, collaborate, and collectively advance the fields of environmental chemistry, sustainability, and global stewardship.

At its core, this conference is a nexus of innovation, compassion, and knowledge exchange, focused on “Advancing Environmental Chemistry Through Sustainable Innovation, Scientific Discovery, and Global Stewardship”. Drawing inspiration from the intricate blend of tradition and modernity that Paris embodies, the conference offers an extraordinary opportunity to delve into the evolving landscape of environmental science with a specific lens on environmental chemistry, sustainable practices, and ecological wellness.

Theme: Transforming Emergency & Acute Care Through Innovation, Technology, and Global Collaboration

Scope and importance:

Environmental Chemistry Conference is expertized scientific consideration for ecosystems with authentic degradation. Environmental Chemistry is study for analyzing pollutants or monitoring contamination of ecosystems. This sort of study is pointed on giving solutions from the incidental effects and stress of authentic environmental degradation. It gives lightening from troubling incidental effects like pollution, contamination, and toxicity of soil, water, air, ailment, Climate Change, loss of biodiversity, environmental hazards, and various others. An assessment of 12% of ecosystems that are encountering exceptional degradation and affliction in environments, who are fitting for environmental chemistry treatment, yet only 30% from them picked to environmental chemistry organizations. Environmental Chemistry joins seven critical capacities: correspondence, Decision making, the leaders, incidental effect control, significant and ecological thought, care of sustainability, and co-arrangement or lucidness of science. The central place of Environmental Chemistry is the lightening from incidental effects and working on the Environmental Quality of Life.
