Tourist Attractions

CLIMATE:

August is a great time to visit Brussels, Belgium, when the leaves are turning red and there's a refreshing chill in the air. At this time of the year, the average temperature starts off at around 19°C and gradually drops until it reaches 14°C-15°C at the end of the month. The city experiences eight hours of sunshine each day and approximately 94mm of rainfall spread across 12 days. There is also an average sea temperature of 22°C toward the coast which is more than warm enough to enjoy a dip during your holiday

CURRENCY:

Decimal currency is used in Brussels, Belgium - units are Euros and cents. All major credit cards are widely accepted in Belgium. Visit www.xe.com for current exchange rates.

Brussels Public Transport Tickets & Travel Passes

Public transport tickets are valid for all city public transport, (city buses and trams, Metro and some rail services within the Brussels urban area.

Ticketing on Brussels public transport is comparatively simple, there are no complicated travel zones or peak/off peak travel periods.

For short term visitors to Brussels you have a very straight forward choice of ticketing options.

Your only decision is whether you need single tickets or 24, 48 or 72 hour passes or a 7 calendar day travel pass.

A single ticket is valid for 100 minutes, allowing you to switch bus lines if there is no direct service.

On the metro you can switch Metro lines at Termini Station with one ticket.

When you buy any transport ticket it is not stamped with a start date. You have the responsibility to stamp your ticket on machines provided for that purpose before you start your journey.

Brussels Bus, Tram & Metro Fares & Ticketing

All local public transport is integrated in Brussels. You have to purchase your tickets before you board any public transport in Brussels. Most people will have a pass of one kind or another.

Tickets for both the bus system and Metro can be purchased from tobacconists, bars, or vending machines at metro stations and major bus stops. On both buses and metro there is a flat fare. whether you go one stop or to the end of the line. On buses your ticket is valid for 100 minutes allowing you to change buses using a single ticket.

At Metro Stations there are ticket barriers where you have to insert your ticket to enter and leave the Metro Station.

On buses and trams you will find ticket validation machines similar to that pictured. If you have a single ticket then enter the ticket into the machine, if you have purchased a pass, you put the pass into the machine on your first journey. This stamps the date and time from which the pass or ticket is valid.
