About the conference

The 12th World Summit on Epilepsy and Bipolar Disorders, known as Epilepsy Summit 2025, is a premier international conference dedicated to advancing the understanding, diagnosis, and treatment of epilepsy and bipolar disorders. Scheduled for August 07-08, 2025, in Paris, France, this summit will feature a diverse array of sessions, including keynote addresses, panel discussions, and workshops led by some of the foremost experts in the field.

The conference aims to address the latest research findings, emerging therapies, and best practices in managing these complex conditions. Attendees will have the opportunity to engage in in-depth discussions on cutting-edge topics, including novel treatment modalities, neurobiological mechanisms, and patient-centered approaches. By fostering collaboration and knowledge exchange, Epilepsy Summit 2025 seeks to drive forward progress in clinical and research domains, ultimately enhancing the quality of care for individuals affected by epilepsy and bipolar disorders.

Theme: "Bridging Research and Practice: Future Directions in Epilepsy and Bipolar Disorder"
