ABOUT ROME

Rome, Italy, offers a magnificent setting for the 6th World Summit on Diabetes. Known for its rich history and cultural heritage, Rome is home to iconic landmarks such as the Colosseum, the Vatican, and the Roman Forum. The city's blend of ancient history and modern amenities ensures an engaging and comfortable environment for international conferences. With world-class facilities, excellent transportation links, and a wide range of accommodations, Rome stands as a prime destination for hosting global events.

A visit to Rome in May adds an extra layer of charm to the conference experience. The city's warm Mediterranean climate is perfect for exploring its beautiful sights. Attendees can enjoy leisurely strolls through picturesque streets, visit the stunning Trevi Fountain, and marvel at the artistic masterpieces in the Sistine Chapel. This time of year also allows for outdoor dining, letting visitors savor authentic Italian cuisine amidst the enchanting ambiance of Rome's numerous piazzas. Additionally, the lush greenery of the city's parks, such as Villa Borghese and the Appian Way, offers serene escapes from the urban hustle.

In addition to its historical and cultural attractions, Rome is also a hub for innovation and research, particularly in the medical and scientific fields. Hosting the World Summit on Diabetes in such a dynamic environment provides attendees with the opportunity to connect with leading experts and institutions, fostering collaboration and knowledge exchange. The city's universities and research centers are renowned for their contributions to medical science, making Rome a fitting location for a conference dedicated to diabetes.
