About Dublin

Dublin is alive with events all around the year and offers numerous experiences across the city- both North & South of River Liffey. In September, the events in Dublin are exciting and welcoming. We have Dublin Fashion Festival, with over 250 retailers, restaurants, labels, bars and artists, this one event is a never-to-miss event, held annually. With a Lisdoonvarna Matchmaker Festival, going to held from August to October, one simply cannot miss the chance to meet one's soul mate, at this non-stop merrymaking event & The Fringe Festival, which is the largest growing cultural event in the Island, which is highly experimental, unique and innovative; it is a place where, artists challenge, subvert and invigorate their disciplines and practice. We then have the Clifden Arts Festival 2017, a 10-day event, which marks its 40th anniversary in 2017. Well, Dublin also has something to offer to all the musicians out there- Clonakilty International Guitar Festival 2017! For a great week, where you want to get lost in the mesmerizing beauty of Dublin, you simply cannot miss the Irish Hot Air Balloon Championships 2017 at Waterford. This event is not only for balloon enthusiasts, but it is for everyone- photographers, book lovers, travel lovers, adventure lovers, and what better place to spend time with your loved one, than a hot air balloon over Waterford? And, the most exciting and the largest, not only in Ireland, rather, it is largest outdoor event in Europe, "The National Ploughing Championships" which is quite incredible to watch and draws the largest crowds ever seen. Now, something for the foodies, the original & Ireland's longest running food festival, Galway International Oyster Festival 2017 is something that one needs to wind up the weekend in some great company- and what's a food festival without Music? It's Ireland, and there is always music everywhere. For literature enthusiasts, there is the Patrick Kavanagh Weekend 2017 which is the poem fest- with numerous poets coming over for workshops, talks, discussions and poem readings. If there is one event, one shouldn't miss in Ireland, it is this!
