Glimpses Of Previous Conference

TOURIST ATTRACTION

When it comes to piers, there is perhaps none more famous than Navy Pier in Chicago. Located on Lake Michigan's shore, Navy Pier was built for over $4 million USD in 1916. Pier Park is the small amusement park on Navy Pier where you'll find its famous 150-foot tall Ferris wheel, as well as a miniature golf course, a carousel, remote control boats, and thrill rides like the Light Tower Ride which lifts you 16 feet into the air and the exhilarating Wave Swinger, a swing ride with great views of Lake Michigan. While Navy Pier's most renowned fascination is without a doubt its notorious Ferris wheel, there's bounty more to see and do here, including going to the Chicago Children's Museum and Crystal Gardens.

Navy Pier

The Museum of Science and Industry is the largest science museum in the Western Hemisphere! Housed in the only remaining building from the 1893 World's Fair, the Museum of Science and Industry is a must-see Chicago attraction. It's fun and interactive! This Science Museum Chicago has a legacy of being one of the first hands-on museums in the nation. This top Chicago attraction is educational and fun for the whole family.
