About Brussels

Brussels is a hidden architectural treasure with diversified architectural styles. It has architecture in Ancient, Gothic, Baroque, Louis XIV, Medieval and ultra-modern buildings to eco-sustainable buildings of recent times. First walls of Brussels were constructed when fortification of city started, and now, only few portions of the first city walls can be seen. While the only remaining portion from the second walls survived to the present day, and it is the Halle Gate. The other city attractions are the UNESCO World Heritage Site- The Grand Place, 15th century Town, the Neo-Gothic Breadhouse, the Guilds of Brussels, The Manneken Pis, Jeanneke Pis, Grand Place-Grote Markt, Parc du Cinquantenaire-Jubelpark, Atomium, Palais de Justice/Justitiepaleis, Mini-Europe and Statue of Europe, and numerous museums- Royal Museum for Art and History, The Cinquantenaire Museum, Museums of Far East, Belgium Historical Museum, Natural Sciences Museum of Belgium, The Horta Museum, Belgian Comic Strip Center, Musical Instruments Museum, Royal Museum of Belgian Army, Museums and Workshops of Chocolates and Pralines, Cantillon Brewery, and BrewSpot. You can also ride in Horse-drawn carriages and look at the city from a different perspective.

Brussels is a food-haven. Belgian waffles, chocolates, pralines, French fries, beers are all unique to Brussels. Even a sprout has been named of Brussels, called the Brussels sprouts. Belgian cuisine is one of the best as per the global food connoisseurs. Belgian foods have a characteristic French and Flemish combination. Re-owned Chocolatiers in Brussels are Godiva, Leonidas and Neuhaus. Chocolates are the precious gems of Brussels. The Sablon district in Brussels has numerous chocolatiers to visit, with Pierre Marcolini being the leading chocolatier and Wittamer- the master of chocolate art.

Brussels has the best flea markets throughout Europe. The Old Market is predominantly renowned and is home to many of Brussels' antiques. The Midi Market is one of the largest flea markets in Europe. Brussels is also one of the greenest capitals, with over 8,000 hectares of green spaces, vegetation cover and natural areas and forests.
