About Conference

Tropical Diseases 2020

Context

Tacking infectious diseases, which kill tens of millions of people every year, is one of the greatest challenges of the 21st century. Many infections and infestations that are classified as "tropical diseases" used to be endemic in countries located in the tropics. In this context, the Tropical Medicine 2017 Conference will provide a platform for researchers and practitioners across the world in increasing global awareness about tropical medicine and infectious diseases research. The conference will attract speakers and delegates from around the world and will offer opportunities to reinforce global cooperation.

Purpose

The theme of the conference is "Global Eradication and Elimination of Infectious Diseases". Some facts regarding Tropical Diseases- Tropical Diseases are responsible for millions of death, especially in the Tropical regions of the World and one-sixth of the world population is infected with Neglected Tropical Diseases and additional two billion are at risk. Approximately half of the world population is under the risk of being exposed to infection with Tropical Diseases causing Micro-organisms Apart from the tropical region, the impact of tropical diseases on public health is global.

Various Challenges and some initiatives taken for Global Elimination of Tropical Diseases

Some of the Challenges taken

Some NTD community collaborated to host the recent 2017 NTD Summit celebrating the 5th year since the signing of the London Declaration, a collaborative disease eradication program inspired by the WHO 2020 roadmap for the global eradication for at least ten NTDs.

According to one of the most renowned journal, It is possible that nearly half of the current NTDs could be eliminated, eradicated or show significant gains in these directions within the decade

Some Initiative taken :

1. WHO roadmap2020
2. London Declaration for elimination of Neglected Tropical Diseases
3. Sustainable Development Goals by WHO in 2015

About Germany

Berlin, the capital and the largest city of Germany is situated in the northeastern Germany on the banks of river Spree and Hazel. With the thriving population of roughly 3.7 million, Berlin is the second most populous city in whole of the European Union followed by London on the seventh position. Since it is location in the European Plain, Berlin is influenced by a pleasant climate.

Berlin is a world city of culture, politics, media and science. Its parsimony is based on advanced firms and the service sector, encircling a distinct range of creative industries, research facilities, media corporation and convention venues. Berlin is home to few of the world's most eminent universities, orchestras, museum and entertainment venues, and has been a host to many sporting events. The city is famous for its festivals, carnivals, diverse architecture, nightlife and contemporary arts.
