About Conference

Context

Tacking infectious diseases, which kill tens of millions of people every year, is one of the greatest challenges of the 21st century. Many infections and infestations that are classified as "tropical diseases" used to be endemic in countries located in the tropics. In this context, the Tropical Medicine 2017 Conference will provide a platform for researchers and practitioners across the world in increasing global awareness about tropical medicine and infectious diseases research. The conference will attract speakers and delegates from around the world and will offer opportunities to reinforce global cooperation.

Purpose

The theme of the conference is "Global Eradication and Elimination of Infectious Diseases". Some facts regarding Tropical Diseases- Tropical Diseases are responsible for millions of death, especially in the Tropical regions of the World and one-sixth of the world population is infected with Neglected Tropical Diseases and additional two billion are at risk. Approximately half of the world population is under the risk of being exposed to infection with Tropical Diseases causing Micro-organisms Apart from the tropical region, the impact of tropical diseases on public health is global.

Various Challenges and some initiatives taken for Global Elimination of Tropical Diseases

Some of the Challenges taken

Some NTD community collaborated to host the recent 2017 NTD Summit celebrating the 5th year since the signing of the London Declaration, a collaborative disease eradication program inspired by the WHO 2020 roadmap for the global eradication for at least ten NTDs.

According to one of the most renowned journal, It is possible that nearly half of the current NTDs could be eliminated, eradicated or show significant gains in these directions within the decade

Some Initiative taken :

1. WHO roadmap2020
2. London Declaration for elimination of Neglected Tropical Diseases
3. Sustainable Development Goals by WHO in 2015

About Barcelona

Barcelona is the capital and largest city of Catalonia and Spain's second largest city, with a population of over one and half million people (over five million in the whole province).This city, located directly on the northeastern Mediterranean coast of Spain, has a rich history, having been under Roman, then Frank law before declaring its independence .In 1992, Barcelona gained international recognition by hosting the Olympic games which brought a massive upturn in its tourism industry. This had the effect of changing the city in ways that are still felt today with neighbourhoods renovated (and in some cases levelled) and the intense focus of modern design permeating all aspects of life in Barcelona from public buildings to something as simple as a park bench or an event poster. For visitors, this has translated into the very modern, yet incredibly old city you see now in the 21st century, where the new elements work to both preserve and celebrate the ancient.

This beautiful city is full of what European cities are known for (outdoor markets, restaurants, shops, museums and churches) and is fantastic for walking with an extensive and reliable Metro system for more far-flung destinations. The core centre of town, focused around the Ciutat Vella ("Old City") provides days of enjoyment for those looking to experience the life of Barcelona while the beaches the city was built upon provide sun and relaxation during the long periods of agreeably warm weather.Famous for its cultural sited, Barcelona is famous renowned tourist Destination with numerous recreational and some one of the best beaches in the World.

The city consists of 8 UNESCO world Heritage sites. Barcelona was named as the seventh most important fashion capital of the world right after Milano and before Berlin.
