ABOUT CITY

Auckland is a significant metropolis in New Zealand's North Island that is built around two enormous harbors. The landmark Sky Tower, located in the heart of the city, offers views over Viaduct Harbor, which is lined with restaurants and cafes and is home to many super yachts. The formal Winter gardens are located in Auckland Domain, the city's oldest park, which is built over an extinct volcano. Mission Bay Beach offers a seaside promenade near downtown.

The Hauraki Gulf to the east, the Hunua Ranges to the south-east, Manukau Harbour to the south-west, and the Waitakere Ranges and minor ranges to the west and north-west define the boundaries of Auckland. The landscape is peppered with 53 volcanic centres that make up the Auckland Volcanic Field, while the surrounding hills are covered with rainforest. The major part of the city is located on a small isthmus between the Tasman Sea's Manukau Harbour and the Pacific Ocean's Waite mat Harbour. Auckland is one of the few cities in the world with a port on both sides of two significant bodies of water .
