About Dallas...

Dallas is a very accessible city located in north central Texas, 35 miles east of Fort Worth, 245 miles, northwest of Houston and 300 miles north of the Gulf of Mexico. Average temperatures range from 12˚ - 24.4˚ C. Dallas enjoys the largest urban arts district in the nation along with great dining, shopping and year round sports. Known for its true Southern hospitality, visitors are exposed to a city that models its current slogan "Big Things Happen Here". Dallas is the 9th largest city in the US and the third largest in Texas with a population over 1.2 million).

Dallas's skyline has several buildings over 700 feet (210 m) in height. Although some of Dallas's architecture dates from the late 19th and early 20th centuries, most of the notable architecture in the city is from the modernist and postmodernist eras. Iconic examples of modernist architecture include Reunion Tower, the JFK Memorial, I. M. Pei's Dallas City Hall and the Morton H. Meyerson Symphony Center. Good examples of postmodernist skyscrapers are Fountain Place, Bank of America Plaza, Renaissance Tower, JPMorgan Chase Tower, and Comerica Bank Tower.

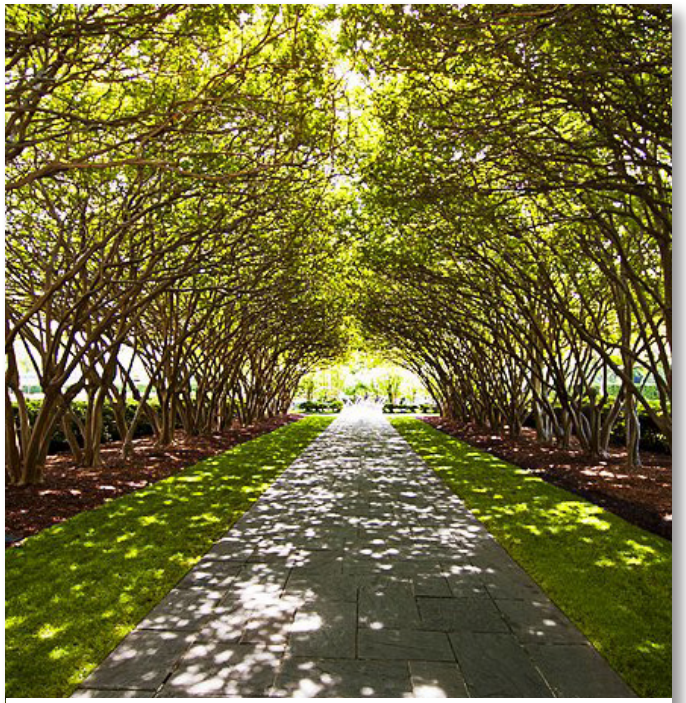

Several smaller structures are fashioned in the Gothic Revival style, such as the Kirby Building, and the neoclassical style, as seen in the Davis and Wilson Buildings. One architectural "hotbed" in the city is a stretch of historic houses along Swiss Avenue, which has all shades and variants of architecture from Victorian to neoclassical.

World Biotechnology Congress 2019 welcomes you the exciting city of Dallas.
