Invitation

Welcome to “The city of elegant boulevards and expansive”, Madrid, the capital of Spain and It is the third-largest city in the European Union and experience the science of dentistry illuminated as never before. EuroSciCon is proud to host the 35th International Conference on Dental Public Health, August 16-17, 2018 in Madrid, Spain. This year’s theme is “Advancements in Oral Care & Dental Health through New Innovative Approaches”. Dental Public Health 2018 will provide an unprecedented opportunity for Dentists of all stripes and colours to share their research with colleagues, and discuss and debate the latest advances in the field. We invite clinicians, pharmacologists, and scientists in related disciplines to come together and inform each other in an environment conducive to education and interaction. Seasoned scientists, young researchers, mid-career professionals and just starting out are all welcome.

With a broad array of keynote presentations, panel discussions, workshops, and poster sessions, the Dental Public Health 2018 is the perfect venue not only to dive into your particular dental interests but also to expand the scope of your knowledge.

The Organizing Committee has done its best to set up a framework that we think will allow for a creative interplay of ideas. All we need now to convert the extensive program on paper to an active and vibrant forum in person by your active participation.

About Destination Madrid

Madrid is the capital city of Spain, and the largest municipality in the Community of Madrid. The city has a population of almost 3.2 million with approximately 6.5 million. It is the third-largest city in the European Union, after London and Berlin, and its metropolitan area is the third-largest in the European Union after London and Paris. The municipality itself covers an area of 604.3 km2. Madrid houses the headquarters of the World Tourism Organization (UNWTO), belonging to the United Nations Organization (UN), the Ibero-American General Secretariat (SEGIB), the Organization of Ibero-American States (OEI), and the Public Interest Oversight Board (PIOB).

Its landmarks include the Royal Palace of Madrid; the Royal Theatre with its restored 1850 Opera House; the Buen Retiro Park, founded in 1631; the 19th-century National Library building (founded in 1712) containing some of Spain's historical archives; a large number of national museums, and the Golden Triangle of Art, located along the Paseo del Prado and comprising three art museums: Prado Museum, the Reina Sofía Museum, a museum of modern art, and the Thyssen-Bornemisza Museum, which completes the shortcomings of the other two museums. Cibeles Palace and Fountain have become one of the monument symbols of the city.

Madrid is home to two world-famous football clubs, Real Madrid and Atlético de Madrid. Due to its economic output, high standard of living, and market size, Madrid is considered the major financial centre of Southern Europe and the Iberian Peninsula; it hosts the head offices of the vast majority of major Spanish companies, such as Telefónica, Iberia, and Repsol. Madrid is the 17th most liveable city in the world according to Monocle magazine.
