About Destination Sydney

Sydney, the capital of New South Wales, Australia. It is Australia's oldest and largest city with a population of around 4 million. Sydney is built around a huge harbour and hosts many tourist attractions as well as a number of beaches, bays and a couple of national parks.

Despite being one of the most expensive cities in the world, the 2018 Mercer Quality of Living Survey ranks Sydney tenth in the world in terms of quality of living, making it one of the most livable cities. It is classified as an Alpha World City by Globalization and World Cities Research Network, indicating its influence in the region and throughout the world. Ranked eleventh in the world for economic opportunity, Sydney has an advanced market economy with strengths in finance, manufacturing and tourism. There is a significant concentration of foreign banks and multinational corporations in Sydney and the city is promoted as one of Asia Pacific's leading financial hubs. Established in 1850, the University of Sydney is Australia's first university and is regarded as one of the world's leading universities. Sydney is also home to the oldest library in Australia, State Library of New South Wales, opened in 1826.

The City

Sydney is spectacularly draped around its glorious harbour and beaches and has visual factors like few other cities. Scratch the surface and it only gets better. There are hundreds of manmade and natural sights throughout the city with breathtaking architecture and natural miracles to visit. A wide range of natural parks, aquariums and beaches will make it worth your while.

Food and Accommodation

With an abundance of fresh produce, great seafood and multicultural influences, Sydney's restaurants and cafés cater to a range of tastes and budgets. You'll find plenty of accommodation choices, too.
