Theme: "New Directions and Global Perspectives in Neurology, Psychiatry & Sleep Disorders"

Sleep Congress 2019 brings together researchers, eminent investigators, medical practitioners, scientist, professor, eminent speakers and other key people to discuss about the innovative research and to exchange ideas and experiences in the field ofSleep Disorders and Psychiatry at an international platform. Organizing Committee also invites young researchers and students to have quick access to the knowledge shared by their peers that might advance their research hence help them to produce community-engaged research that improves the lives of children, adolescents, and families.

Sleep Congress 2019 will be the ideal space to allow attendees to share experiences, disseminate research, and discuss new developments and future areas of intervention in this field. It is difficult to synthesize, using few words, the wide range of topics that will be analyzed and debated through conferences, clinical sessions, symposiums, in addition to scientific communications and specific activities includes discussion with experts. However, we can gurantee a well invested time for the discussion of frequent clinical problems of this age group, as well as a discussion involving health problems related to drug use, impact of new technologies, social networks, etc. We desire to give the maximum dissemination of ongoing research, meeting new and future trends and research fields through this conference..
