ABOUT SAN DIEGO

San Diego, the city that has earned National Certification for innovation in their governance is the second largest city in the state of California and eighth largest in the USA with an estimated population of 1,419,516. San Diego's climate has been voted as one of the top-ten best climates according to the Farmers' Almanac and the city has one of the two best summer climates in America as scored by The Weather Channel. The city lies on approximately 200 deep canyons and hills separating its mesas, creating small pockets of natural open scattered spaces throughout the city giving it a hilly geography. The Mission beach, La Jolla Cove, San Diego, the San Diego bay are major attractions of the city along with SeaWorld San Diego, San Diego zoo, Gaslamp Quarter, USS Midway Museum and many others. The San Diego River is another natural beauty to look forward to.
