Madrid is the capital and biggest city of Spain. The number of inhabitants in the city is just about 3.2 million and that of the Madrid metropolitan territory, around 6.3 million. It is the third-biggest city in the European Union, after London and Berlin, and its metropolitan range is the third-biggest in the European Union after London and Paris. The city traverses an aggregate of 604.3 km2 (233.3 sq mi).

The city is situated on the Manzanares River in the focal point of both the nation and the Community of Madrid (which contains the city of Madrid, its conurbation and broadened rural areas and towns); this group is circumscribed by the self-ruling groups of Castile and León and Castile-La Mancha. As the capital city of Spain, seat of government, and living arrangement of the Spanish ruler, Madrid is additionally the political, financial and social focus of Spain. The present chairman is Ana Botella from the People's Party (PP). .
