5th International Conference on Reproductive Medicine & PCOS

APRIL 23-24, 2019 | BERLIN, GERMANY

AGENDA

Biography

Title: Women and Addiction: Empowerment and Change

Beth Meyer-Frank, RNP, JD

Planning to Flourish, California, USA

Ab I have over 30 years of experience providing healthcare in a variety of settings including community health and family planning clinics, residential and outpatient treatment centers for addicted women and their children, and a private practice treating women with psychiatric illnesses. Earning a JD gave me a better understanding and perspective of issues that affect women. My organization, "Planning to Flourish" promotes awareness, education, and information about why family planning is of upmost importance for addicted women while they are in recovery.

Title: Reproductive Life Events of Twins with Opposite Sex

Shayesteh Jahanfar

Central Michigan University, Mount Pleasant, USA

Dr. Jahanfar is a reproductive epidemiologist with grounding in public health and biostatistics. Her research focuses on reproductive health, women and children health, and genetic versus environment studies. She has worked with a number of twin studies in Australia, Iran, Malaysia, and Canada. She has conducted several epidemiological studies and produced over 15 systematic reviews in the areas of HIV/AIDS, domestic violence, family planning, ultrasound screening and breast-feeding. She is an international Cochrane trainer, has conducted over 20 Cochrane workshops/webinar series on standard author training and trained over 400 clinicians and scientists. She has over 60 peer-reviewed publications including Nature Perinatology, Fertility & Sterility, Cochrane library, and Journal of Fetal and Maternal Medicine. She is currently working towards conducting several twin studies, a randomized controlled trial and a longitudinal study all related to reproductive health and reproductive behavior at national and international levels. She is interested to work with interested students and researchersfor potentialcollaboration

Title: Polycystic ovarian syndrome and the livded experience of women 18-23 years of age: A phenomenological study

Lauren Kunzer

Loyola University, USA

Lauren Kunzer RN BSN, is a graduate of Loyola University Chicago Niehoff School of Nursing, where she completed the research project Polycystic ovarian syndrome and the lived experience of women 18-23 years of age: a phenomenological study. The funding for this project was scholarship award from Loyola University Chicago, the Loyola Undergraduate Research Opportunities Program grant, which is a competitive process for Loyola University Chicago students. Currently, Lauren is employed at Ann and Robert H. Lurie Children's Hospital, Chicago, as a resource nurse. Lauren is also a member of Associate of Women's Health, Obstetric and Neonatal Nursing and the Pediatric Nursing Society. In her capacity at Lurie Children's Hospital, she is also involved with two evidenced projects one which is team based and one she is completing herself. Polycystic ovarian syndrome and the lived experience of women 18-23 years of age: A phenomenological study

SPEAKER SLOTS AVAILABLE

Biography

Title: Socio-cultural Barriers to Utilization of Maternal Healthcare Services in Sub-Saharan Africa

Ide Seydou
University of Ottawa, Canada

Ide SEYDOU is PhD candidate in population health program at University of Ottawa, Canada, and has completed his master's degree in social medicine and health management from Huazhong University of science and technology, Wuhan-China. He is interested in maternal and child health in developing countries. He is an author and co-author of several articles published in reputed journals

Title: Introduction to HRT in Women and Female Sexual Health

Dr Anna Cabeca
DO, FACOG, ABAARM, USA

Gynecologist, obstetrician and women health expert, with over 20 year experience

Title: PLACENTAL PATHOLOGY FINDINGS AND BWD

Shayesteh Jahanfar
Central Michigan University,
Mount Pleasant, USA

Dr. Jahanfar is a reproductive epidemiologist with grounding in public health and biostatistics. Her research focuses on reproductive health, women and children health, and genetic versus environment studies. She has worked with a number of twin studies in Australia, Iran, Malaysia, and Canada. She has conducted several epidemiological studies and produced over 15 systematic reviews in the areas of HIV/AIDS, domestic violence, family planning, ultrasound screening and breast-feeding. She is an international Cochrane trainer, has conducted over 20 Cochrane workshops/webinar series on standard author training and trained over 400 clinicians and scientists. She has over 60 peer-reviewed publications including Nature Perinatology, Fertility & Sterility, Cochrane library, and Journal of Fetal and Maternal Medicine. She is currently working towards conducting several twin studies, a randomized controlled trial and a longitudinal study all related to reproductive health and reproductive behavior at national and international levels. She is interested to work with interested students and researchersfor potentialcollaboration

SPEAKER SLOTS AVAILABLE

Biography

Title: Electronic water can reduce oxidative stress in PCOS

Masahiro Onuma,
President of Trisguide ltd, Japan

Masahiro Onuma has expertise in oxidative disease prevention to use non-medical product based on GSK's experience of Allopurinol which is the strongest anti-oxidant efficacy in this world. He creates new indication of Allopurinol for stomatitis induced by cancer treatment which was approved by the Japanese Cancer treatment committee to propose new mechanism of Allopurinol for anti-oxidant. And now, there are so many new research papers of Allopurinol in the world.

Title: Clinical evaluation for the decline of serum estradiol in PCOS patients treated with GnRH antagonist protocol during controlled ovarian hyperstimulation

Li Jie,
Wuhan University, China

Li Jie,born in 1980, received M.D. from Wuhan University in 2004 and Ph.D. From Huazhong University of Science and technology. After graduation, she became a doctor in Reproductive Medical Center in Renmin Hospital of Wuhan University. She is an excellent doctor in Obstetrics and Gynecology, Reproductive Endocrinology and Infertility. She has her expertise in evaluation and passion in improving the infertility of patient who suffers from Polycystic Ovarian Syndrome, she is experienced in therapy for IVF of POCS, the decline of E2 usually emerges in the process of controlled ovarian hyperstimulation with GnRH antagonist protocol in PCOS, this study illuminated the IVF outcomes in those patients.

Title: Single mothers by choice: The current state of research regarding their motives and the options of the Internet to realize their desire to have children

Christiane Eichenberg
Sigmund Freud University,Vienna, Austria

Christiane Eichenberg has completed her PhD at 2006 at the University of Cologne, finished her habilitation 2010 at the Ilmenau University of Technology. She is professor and head of the Institute of Psychosomatics, Medical Faculty at the Sigmund Freud Private University. She is also a psychotherapist (psychoanalysis). She has published more than 60 peer-reviewed papers in journals, gives oral presentations at international conferences and published books about E-Mental Health, self-treatment and self-medication, Psych traumatology and Online-Counseling.

SPEAKER SLOTS AVAILABLE

Biography

Title: Views of Female Genital Mutilation: insight of men in a rural Igbo community in Abia State, Nigeria

Hemuka Jane Ngozika,
University of Wolverhampton, UK

Mrs Ngozika Hemuka has completed her Masters in Public Health and is currently a Doctoral student at the University of Wolverhampton. She is a member of Violence Against Women and Girls Research Cluster (VAWGRC) and the director of Women Children and Community Health(WCCH).

Title: Exploring Health Worker Responses to a Drama and Documentary Film About Family Planning in Rural Uganda

Isabella Chambers
University of Bristol, UK

Isabella Chambers is a medical student, who has completed three years of medical school, with a Bachelor of Science in Global Health from the University of Bristol. Isabella is passionate about Global Health, with a particular interest in Family Planning in Low-Income countries, and has carried out two research projects in Uganda

Title: Reproductive function in female kidney transplant recipients

Anastasia Kudrytskaya
Belarussian State Medical University, Belarus

Anastasia Kudrytskaya has completed Belarussian State Medical University, worked as an obstetrician and gynecologist in State Hospital №1. Now she is working on her postdoctoral study in Belarusian State Medical University. She has participated in national and international medical Congresses. She was a medical volunteer in Misericordia di Firenze (Florence, Italy) and cooperates with UNFPA (UNESCO) on reproductive and sexual health problems.

SPEAKER SLOTS AVAILABLE

Biography

Title: Effects of FGM on Adolescent Sexual Reproductive Health Rights (SRHR) information and services through Advocacy in Tharaka Nithi County in Kenya.

Lacton Mugambi,
GRADIF Foundation, Kenya

He is SRHR Project Coordinator in Grassroots Development Initiatives Foundation-Kenya (GRADIF-K)

Title: The place of Adolescents' sexuality education in the curriculum of Universities in Nigeria

Femi TINUOLA
PhD
Niigeria

She is in Department of Sociology, Faculty of the Social Sciences, Kogi State University, Anyigba, Nigeria and working there almost 20 years. He is interested in women sexual rights & education

Title: The effect of short-term couple therapy on marital satisfaction in menopausal women

Mahdieh Rouhbakhsh
Zahedan University of Medical Sciences, Iran

Mahdieh Rouhbakhsh has completed his Master at the age of 37 years from zahedan

SPEAKER SLOTS AVAILABLE

Biography

Title: Sexual activity, interest and satisfaction in older women in Iran

Mardi Afrouz
Ardabil University of Medical Science, Iran

Mardi Afrouz has completed PhD in Reproductive Health, Assistant Professor, School of Health, Ardabil University of Medical Science, Daneshgah street, Ardabil, Iran

Title: Birth Control Knowledge and Innovative Practices in Central Uganda

Peter Atekyereza,
Makerere University, Uganda

Peter Atekyereza completed his PhD at the age of 34 years from Johannes Kepler University Linz in Austria. He is a Professor of Sociology and Head of Department of Sociology and Anthropology at Makerere University in Kampala, Uganda. He has published more than 27 papers in reputed journals and serves as editorial board member for a reputableJournals.

Title: Risk factors for unintended pregnancy among HIV positive pregnant women in Lira district, postconflict Northern Uganda: A cross sectional study

Napyo Agnes Kasede
Busitema University, Uganda

Napyo Agnes Kasede is a PhD student aged 36 years from Mbale, Uganda. She is pursuing a Joint PhD program at Makerere University in Uganda and University of Bergen in Norway. She is an upcoming young investigator/researcher and has attended and presented at some national/local conferences

SPEAKER SLOTS AVAILABLE

Biography

Title: The Relationship of the Incidence of Diseases of the Genitourinary System with Male Infertility in the Kyrgyz Republic

Mirlan Aibashov
Scientific and Production Centre for Preventive Medicine, Kyrgyz Republic

Mirlan Aibashov has a 15 years' work-record of urologist and andrologist. He is now working on a PhD dissertation on the problems of male infertility and improvement of male reproductive health in Kyrgyzstan

Title: Traditional Medicinal Plants Used to Treat Maternal and Child Health Illnesses in Ethiopia: An Ethno-botanical Approach

Asmare Talie
Debre Markos University, Ethiopia

I am Asmare Talie who is a midwife lecturer in Debre Markos University. I studied my BSc degree in midwifery at University of Gondar and my MSc in Midwifery Education program in Mekelle University. I have many published papers in reputed journals, four community projects as principal investigator and 3 co investigators.

Title: Assessment of effect of Non-Pharmacological Approaches in Polycystic Ovarian Syndrome Treatment in Faisalabad: A qualitative insight from Gynecologist prospective

Ume Hani Binte Yousaf,
Al Nafees Medical College, Pakistan

Dr Ume Hani completed her MD from Avicenna Tajik State Medical University Tajikistan in 2013.She did House Job Training in Gynecology and Obstetrics from DHQ Hospital Faisalabad. She served Begum Iqbal Medicare Faisalabad as Women medical officer in Gynae department in 2016 and 2017.She presented her research work related to antenatal care and gender empowerment in national conferences. She is working as Lecturer Pharmacology in Al Nafees Medical College Islamabad, Pakistan since 2017. She is interested to improve quality of life of PCOS patients through research in developing countries.

SPEAKER SLOTS AVAILABLE

Biography

Title: Short cervical length or premature cervical dilatation in patients treated for polycystic ovary syndrome: Case ser-ies

Aketch Mathias Odera,
College Health of Sciencesm Kenya

Dr. Aketch Mathias completed Bachelor of Medicine and surgery and Master of Medicine (Ob/Gyn), and also having professional Memberships and awards like Member of KMA, Member of KOGS, Specialist Recognition by Medical Practitioners and Dentist Board. Aketch offers services like Antenatal Care, Postnatal Care, Infertility, Family Planning, Screening for Gynecological Cancer, General Gynecological Problems.

Title: A map for management of adolescent polycystic ovarian syndrome after ESHRE 2018

Mohammad Emam,
Mansoura Faculty of Medicine,
Egypt

Mohammad Emam is working as a prof. of OB & GYN in Mansoura Faculty of Medicine, Mansoura integrated fertility center (MIF) Egypt. He published many articles in international journal proceedings.

Title: A Prospective Study on Role of Metformin and Myoinositol in Management of Polycystic Ovarian Syndrome

Samatha Ampeti,
St.Peter's College of Pharmacy,
Warangal

Samatha Ampeti is graduate from St. Peter's College of Pharmacy, Indian. She published many articles in international journals.

SPEAKER SLOTS AVAILABLE